

TGI Portugal is a full scale, highly dynamic and flexible European textile producer, based in Lisbon. We are work in the high-end international market for lingerie, underwear, swimwear and other production in light knits.

RAW MATERIAL PURCHASER

Mission:

The raw material purchaser has to purchase fabric/raw material, managing schedule, quality, costs and delivery compliance.

Should have an understanding of the entire production process be able to anticipate issues, avoid delay and guarantee the lowest level of stock possible.

Communicate lead times to design and production departments, negotiating costs and minimums with suppliers, and managing raw material database.

Working alongside industrial/product design, production, planning and warehouse, to provide the best service and guarantee that all materials are available on time.

Main professional activities

- Analyze the requirements, management and follow up orders;
- Complaint handling Working closely with Planning, Commercial area, Warehouse and Production, he/she needs to be able to anticipate needs and problems regarding availability of raw material and accessories;
- Stock control management;
- Knowledge about rules and import procedures.

Qualification:

- High degree in Logistic Management, Industrial Engineering (not mandatory)
- Industrial Background in RM purchase is an asset (preference in Textile)
- Knowledge of industrial processes and techniques
- Fluent Portuguese and English
- Ability to quickly learn systems

Soft Skills:

- hands on mentality
- communication and negotiation skills;
- highly organized, hard worker and detail oriented;
- the ability to cope with the pressure of deadlines;
- determination to achieve an end result, and optimism and enthusiasm when things don't go to plan.
- teamplayer